

My name is Amy England and you usually see my byline in this paper as the reporter for news and happenings around town. I've been writing and taking photos for the Star for about three years and trying to keep up with all that goes on in the area sure keeps me busy. I enjoy having the chance to meet many of you and learn about how you contribute to our community.

I moved to Steelville with my husband Brad, a Steelville native, in 1997 and love living here. We have two children, Conner and Emma. Conner is a middle school student in the fifth grade and Emma is a third grader at the elementary. We are also active with the Yadkin Creek 4-H Club. At this year's Crawford County Fair, we showed calves, goats and chickens and the kids are hoping to add rabbits and a hog to the menagerie for next year.

During the summers, I work for Mound Ridge Camp and Retreat Center, located near Maramec Springs Park. I have directed our day camp program for several years now and I love having the opportunity to share the beauty of God's creation with the younger members of our area. Besides, it's just plain fun!

I enjoy yoga, reading a good book and a nice glass of wine. I make beaded jewelry, most often as gifts to commemorate special occasions. I like to head creek-side during the warmer months to hang out while the kids play in the cold spring water and to go sledding when it snows. I love living the country life.

I'm also a Presbyterian!

Come worship with me at the Steelville Presbyterian Church.
